

Kay Nelson chosen Queen of Steam at Dalton Reunion

The annual Lake Region Pioneer Threshermen's Reunion at Dalton is history, but it went down as one of the most successful ever staged.

Kay Nelson was chosen Queen of Steam following the talent show Friday evening, and she and her two attendants: Barb Ness, left and Denise Miller, appear with this article. Kay will reign over all Dalton events for the coming year.

Retiring queen Sharon Flick, crowned the new queen, and also honored the eldest queen, Thea Moller. Their picture appears on page 8 of this issue.

The parade Saturday was a big event, with many units from surrounding towns, bands, clowns and other participants. This was followed by a great deal of activity on the threshing grounds, sawing wood, running feed mills, threshing grain, plowing, and the steam parade.

Sunday, a great assemblage gathered for the church services, and activities resumed on the grounds following the morning service.

Another great year for the association and the town of Dalton.
